SHRIRAM FINANCE LTD. Vs DARBAR

Present: Sh.Pushkar Rai Garg , Advocate for complainant.

Today, the case was fixed for awaiting compliance report from the concerned SHO regarding furnishing of KYC documents of accused available with the bank alongwith account opening form.

Aforesaid documents have not been received from the concerned SHO.

At this stage, learned counsel for the complainant requested that arguments on the point of summoning of accused be heard and submitted that aforesaid documents could be procured at a later stage if, post summoning, presence of accused could not be procured. Submissions heard. This court finds merits in the aforesaid submissions and accordingly, operation of directions passed vide order dated 05.05.2026 is hereby ordered to be kept in abeyance until further orders.

It is noticed that the complainant has placed on record postal receipt regarding dispatch of notice; however, no tracking report, acknowledgment card, returned envelope, RC cover, or any other supporting material showing service or status of the postal article has been placed on record.

The aforesaid documents may have a bearing on the issue under consideration, as the same may assist the Court in determining whether the notice was duly served upon the accused or whether circumstances exist for drawing a presumption regarding service of notice. Since the question of service of notice is relevant for examining whether the necessary ingredients of the cause of action stand prima facie satisfied, the said material assumes significance at this stage.

Accordingly, in the interest of justice, one effective opportunity is granted to the complainant to place on record the relevant material, if any, in support of service of notice. It is made clear that in case the complainant fails to place the said material on record despite the opportunity granted, the matter shall be considered on the basis of material already available on record and an appropriate inference, if warranted under law, may be drawn.

Put up on 18.12.2026 for further proceedings. Long date is given due to heavy pendency of the cases in the court of undersigned and for targeted disposal of action plan cases.
