3. The Ld. A.P.P. and Ld. Adv. Of Complainant opposed the bail petition and submitted that there is a serious allegation against the petitioner, he is husband of the complainant.

4. As per complaint petition of the Complainant-Babli Devi, the prosecution's case in short is that, on 20.05.2012 as per Hindu customs and traditions. That marriage was solemnized in the rented house of the complainant in Mohalla Hathsarganj, Police Station Nagar, Hajipur. On the occasion of that marriage, the complainant's mother gave Rs. 1,51,000/- in cash for the wedding procession, to accused Shravan Chaudhary, accused Ganesh Chaudhary was given boot, ring, gold worth Rs. 40,000/- complainant was given jewellery, clothes worth about Rs. 1 lakh were given as gifts to the complainant. After the marriage, the complainant went to her in-laws' house where she lived well for about 3 months. Thereafter, the accused started pressuring the complainant to give Rs. 1 lakh in cash as dowry from her mother. When the complainant said that whatever was taken from her mother has already been taken, when will they give Rs. 1 lakh now? To fulfill the demand of Rs. 1 lakh, the accused started torturing the complainant in various ways. They stopped giving food to the complainant, they started beating her and during that time, the complainant became pregnant and gave birth to a baby girl who is now 7 months old. That the accused did not provide proper care, medicine to the complainant at the time of the birth of the girl child and even after that, the accused started saying that she has given birth to a girl child, the character of the complainant is not good and the accused started instigating the complainant to commit suicide, they said that if you die then we will get the accused Ganesh Chaudhary married again by taking more dowry. That on 28.01.2014, the accused
