IDFC FIRST BANK LIMITED Vs NIKHIL CHAND

Present: Ms. Srishti, Proxy counsel for the complainant.

Bailable warrants issued against accused not received back. Even legal notice was issued to accused on the same address but he failed to make payment to complainant. It seems that accused is intentionally avoiding service. In view of these circumstances, this court has sufficient grounds to presume that further coercive method is required to be adopted for ensuring the presence of the accused. Non bailable warrants against accused be issued for 11.06.2026.
