

Cr. Rev. No.20/2025
Col. Vinod Kumar Gaur Vs. NCT of Delhi & Ors.

20.07.2026

Present:- Sh. Pranab Prakash and Ms. Roopsi Sabharwal, Ld.
Counsel for the revisionist.

Sh. R.K. Gurjar, Ld. Chief Public Prosecutor for State / Respondent no.1.

Respondent no.3 in person with Sh. Anukul Adhana,
Ld. Counsel for Respondents no.2 and 3.

An application filed on behalf of wife of revisionist dated 09.01.2026 informing the Court about the death of the revisionist is pending disposal.

It is submitted that the present application is filed by the wife of the revisionist informing about the death of the revisionist on 13.04.2025. Ld. Counsel for the revisionist submits that the wife of the revisionist wants to continue with the revision petition.

On the other hand, Ld. Counsel for the respondents has opposed the application and submits that all the legal heirs of the revisionist should have been made parties in the revision and therefore, the application is not maintainable.

I have heard the submissions of Ld. Counsel for both the sides on aforesaid application and perused the record.

From the application, it is evident that in the application, only it is mentioned that revisionist has died on 13.10.2025 and no relief has been sought by the applicant that she be impleaded on behalf of deceased revisionist. In these circumstances, the information of death of the revisionist is taken on record. However, since the applicant / wife of deceased revisionist has not stated how she has interest in the present revision or that she wants to continue with the present revision petition, therefore, in my view, she cannot be permitted to assist this Court unless appropriate application in this regard is filed.

Ld. Counsel for the revisionist seeks adjournment to file appropriate application for impleadment of legalheirs of deceased revisionist. Same be filed before the next date of hearing with advance copy of Counsel for opposite side.

Case is adjourned to 29.08.2026 for arguments on the revision petition.
