DR. BHATIA MEDICAL COACHING INSTITUTE Vs. APPSQUADZ
TECHNOLOGIES

Jan 3, 2023

Present: Ms. Urvashi Bhatia, Ld. counsel for the plaintiff

On the last date of hearing, dasti summons were issued for service of the defendant. However, the same could not be served as the defendant has shifted from the given address. Considering the same, fresh address alongwith the amended memo has been filed. However, perusal of the plaint reveals that the dispute in the present suit is a commercial dispute. The plaintiff which is a Private limited company had engaged Def. no.1, which is also a private limited company, for developing a mobile application to facilitate the business of the plaintiff company, which is of imparting coaching and training to aspirants of NEET, which is a test conducted for entrance to Medical colleges. The defendants allegedly unilaterally cancelled the contract. The suit is for recovery of Rs. 3,34,000/-.

Considering the same, the plaint is returned to the ld. counsel to take steps in accordance with the Commercial Courts Act. File be consigned to record room.
