OPPONENT: The State of Gujarat

Appearance:

Mr.D.C.Rathod : Learned Advocate for the applicants-accused.

Mr.C.G.Patel : Learned APP for the State.

Mr.D.J.Rathod : Learned Advocate for the complainant

Application seeking Regular Bail under Section 483 of the BNSS

-:: O R D E R ::-

1. By way of this application preferred under Section 483 of Bharatiya Nagrik Suraksha Sanhita (for short "BNSS"), the present applicants-accused have prayed to enlarge them on regular bail in connection with the F.I.R. bearing C.R.No.11197011260143/2026 registered at Manjusar Police Station, Vadodara Rural, for the offences punishable under Sections 189(2), 191(2), 190, 296(b), 115(2), 118(2), 125(a) of BNS and under Section 135 of G.P.Act.

2. On service of notice, Mr.C.G.Patel, learned Assistant Public Prosecutor, appeared for the State and filed affidavit of the Investigating Officer at Ex.6. Whereas Ld. Advocate

Mr.D.J.Rathod for the original complainant has filed objections vide Ex.8.

3. Heard learned advocate for the applicants-accused, learned APP for the State as well as learned advocate for the original complainant.

4. Learned advocate appearing for the applicants-accused has reiterated the grounds stated in the application and prayed to release the present applicants-accused on bail. It is further submitted that the applicants-accused are innocent and not involved in the offence but falsely implicated in the offence on the basis of suspicion. It is further submitted that the present applicant-accused no.1 has filed complaint against the complainant and others with Manjusar police station and to take revenge, the present complaint has been filed. It is further submitted that the that the applicants-accused are residing at the address mentioned in cause title and therefore, there is no possibility of their fleeing. It is further submitted that the applicants-accused have responsibility of their families and if the applicants-accused are not released on bail, their family will have to suffer hardship. He has further submitted that trial of the case may take long time and if the applicants-accused are not released on bail, it may amount to pre-trial conviction. It is further submitted that the applicants-accused are ready to abide by conditions that may be imposed by the Court and therefore, he has requested this Court to enlarge the present applicants-accused on regular bail on appropriate conditions.

5. Referring to the affidavit of I.O., the learned APP Mr.C.G.Patel for the State, has submitted that looking to the nature of the offence and the involvement of the applicants-accused in the offence, they should not be released on bail. He has further submitted that as there is prima facie case against the applicants-accused and the investigation is going on, the applicants-accused should not be released on bail. He has further submitted that if the applicant-accused are released on bail, as applicants-accused and the complainant and other witnesses are residing in same area nearby each other's house, possibility of threatening to the complainant and witnesses and tampering with the evidence cannot be ruled out. He has further submitted that if the applicants-accused are released on bail, they may not remain present during the trial and the trial may be delayed unnecessarily. Hence, the learned APP has requested to reject the present application.

6. Upon hearing learned advocates for the rival sides and going through the record, it is apparent that though in both cases, grievous hurt has been caused using iron pipe, for the reasons best known to the investigating officer, Section 118(2) has been invoked in the present offence whereas in the cross case, Section 117(2) has been invoked. Further, the offences alleged against the applicant-accused are triable by the Court of learned Magistrate. Looking to the nature of the offence, trial of the case is likely to take long time and if the applicants-accused are not released on bail, there is likelihood of pretrial conviction. An apprehension is shown by learned APP that if the applicant-accuseds are released on bail, as applicants-accused and the complainant and other witnesses are residing in same area nearby each other's house, possibility of threatening to the complainant and witnesses and tampering with the evidence cannot be ruled out. But mere apprehension is not sufficient to deny the bail and that apprehension can be taken care of by imposing suitable conditions. Therefore, I am of the view that this is the fit case to exercise discretion in favour of the applicants-accused and hence, I pass the following order in the interest of justice.
