(1) The present Criminal Misc. Application has been filed by the applicant under Section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1963, praying to condone the delay of 10 Days caused in filing the Criminal Appeal against the impugned judgment and order dated 09.04.2026 passed by the Ld. 5th Addl. Chief Judicial Magistrate, Valsad in Criminal Case No. 861/2023 filed under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, whereby the applicant/original accused came to be convicted and sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of one year and further directed to pay compensation of Rs.5,00,000/- to the complainant and in default thereof, to undergo further simple imprisonment for three months.

(2) On filing of the present application, notice was issued to the opponents and the same was served upon them. On service of notice, Ld. Advocate Mr. K.N. Bulsara appeared on behalf of Opponent No. 1, whereas, Ld. Addl. P.P. appeared on behalf of Opponent No. 2 – State. The Ld. Addl. P.P. submitted that the applicant has failed to show sufficient and reasonable cause for condonation of delay. It is further contended that the reasons advanced by the applicant are neither satisfactory nor convincing and therefore, the present application seeking condonation of delay deserves to be rejected.

(3) The Ld. Advocate for the applicant has submitted that the respondent No.1 had filed Criminal Case No. 861/2023 against the present applicant under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act before the Court of the Ld. 5th Addl. Chief Judicial Magistrate, Valsad. It is submitted that after conclusion of the trial, the Ld. Trial Court vide judgment and order dated 09.04.2026 convicted the applicant/original accused for the offence punishable under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act and sentenced him to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of one year along with direction to pay compensation of Rs.5,00,000/- to the complainant. It is further submitted that the appeal against the said judgment and order was required to be filed on or before 09.05.2026, however, delay of 10 days has occurred in filing the present appeal as the applicant is an illiterate person and not conversant with legal procedures and could not obtain proper legal advice within time. It is submitted that the delay caused is neither intentional nor deliberate, but due to bona fide reasons. It is further submitted that if the delay is not condoned, the applicant will suffer irreparable loss and hardship, whereas no prejudice will be caused to the opponents if the delay is condoned. Therefore, it is prayed to condone the delay of 10 days caused in filing the present Criminal Appeal.

(4) In this regard, it is to be mentioned that every matter is to be decided on its own merits and rejecting the application on the technical ground is to be avoided and so far as possible, the matter is to be decided on merits of the case and it should not be thrown away on technical ground.

(5) In the present matter, it appears that the delay is not willful and applicant was not able to file Criminal Appeal in time due to the circumstances which are beyond his control. Generally, the Court should take lenient and pragmatic view for doing substantive justice to condone the delay. Further, the legislature has conferred power to condone the delay by enacting Section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1963, in order to enable the Courts to do substantial justice to parties by disposing of matters on “merits”.

The expression “sufficient cause” employed by the legislature is adequately elastic to enable the Court to apply the law in a meaningful manner which sub-serves the ends of justice that being the life-purpose for the existence of the institution of Courts. Moreover, dismissing the complaint on technical ground of limitation would not in any way advance the interests of justice but admittedly result in failure of justice.

(6) In N. Balakrishnan v M. Krishnamurthy reported in (1998) 7 SCC 123, it was inter alia observed by the Apex Court that if explanation given does not smack mala fide or is not shown to have put as dilatory strategy, the Court should show consideration to the suitor and the discretion has to be exercised leaning towards the condonation of delay. It was observed that "length of delay is not matter, acceptability of the explanation is the only criteria". It was observed that unless the exercise of discretion is to be based on wholly untenable grounds or perverse, the delay should be condoned with liberal approach to enable the litigant to pursue his rights on merits. It is also observed that, while law of limitation is to be viewed in public policy, right to seek substantial justice is also a part of the public policy. Both have to be balanced in a given case. It is, therefore, held by the Court as a trite principle that if some cause is shown which is not coupled with negligence or lack of bona fide, such cause will have to be viewed liberally to treat it as sufficient cause.

(7) In view of the above discussion with regards to the law laid down in above settled legal position, this Court has come to the conclusion that the cause shown by the applicant is sufficient for condonation of delay and therefore, in the interest of justice, following order is passed:-

::: O R D E R :::

(i) The application of the applicant for condonation of delay is allowed and the delay in question to file the appeal is hereby condoned, subject to deposit the costs of Rs.5,000/- by the applicant, to DLSA, Valsad, within 10 days from the date of this order.

(ii) The Registry is hereby directed to register the appeal preferred by the applicant thereafter.

Signed & pronounced in the open Court today on June 06th, 2026.
