JUDGMENT

The accused voluntarily pleads guilty of the offence with which he is charged herein. Upon inquiry, I have found that the guilt so confessed by the accused is without any compulsion, force or inducement. I have also informed the accused that in case he pleads guilty of the offence, he might be subjected to the punishment as prescribed by law and therefore, he should not be under an impression that only because of his such confession, the Court would think of awarding him lesser or lenient punishment. Even then the accused asserts that he is voluntarily pleading guilty.

Being convinced of the voluntary nature of plea of guilt of the accused person, I accept the same. Having regard to the nature of crime committed by the accused and having heard the accused and prosecution, I am of the opinion that following sentence shall serve the ends of justice. Hence, the order:

ORDER

Accused namely Ganesh Baburao Gampale is convicted of the offence punishable under Section 285 of the B.N.S. vide Section 275 of the B.N.S.S and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs.500/- (Five Hundred Rupees) in default to suffer S.I. for 2 days.
