

27 Cr. Case 2522/2026
STATE Vs. ANKIT @HAKLA 80013027/2026
(Nangloi)

03.07.2026

Present : Ld. Substitute APP for the State.
Complainant Renu in person.
Accused produced from JC.

It is stated by the complainant that he has amicably, out of his free will, arrived at a compromise. She further states that his stolen mobile phone has also been recovered. The complainant further states that he has no objection if accused is acquitted in view of compounding the matter.

Statement of complainant recorded separately.

In view of the statement of the parties, the case stands compounded as the offence is a compoundable offence. Accused is acquitted in the present case.

File be consigned to record room.

(RENU)
JMFC-10(WEST)/THC/DELHI
03.07.2026