

Case called out before Lok Adalat.

The both parties and their counsels have submitted that the plaintiff and defendants have got settled the dispute in between themselves.

Both the parties have filed Joint compromise petition stating that the matter between them is amicably settled and they want to settle the matter in terms of compromise petition.

Plaintiff and defendant have submitted their affidavits, Photographs, copy of aadhaar cards as their identity proof.

Perused the joint compromise petition, read over and explained the contents of compromise petition to the parties in Kannada language, enquired the plaintiff and defendant submitted that, with their free will and consent they have arrived to settle their dispute and admitted to the terms of compromise petition. As such, this court is of the opinion that, the compromise is voluntary and not against the any of the provisions of Law of contract. Hence there is no impediment to accept the joint compromise petition. Accordingly, Lok-Adalath proceed to pass the following:

ORDER

The joint compromise petition filed by the parties is accepted. Thereby, the suit is decreed in terms of compromise petition.

Office is directed to draw final decree interms the terms of compromise petition.

Parties shall bear their own costs.

Judicial Conciliator

Non Judicial Conciliator