Cri. M.A. No. 187/2022.
Haresh & Anr. v. Arvindkumar.

Order Below Exh. 1.

Complainants and their ld. advocate are absent when called out repeatedly. Sufficient opportunity is given to the complainants. However, complainants failed to remained present and proceed with the complaint. It appears that the complainants have lost interest in the present application. The matter is pending on same stage since long. No purpose would be served by keeping the matter pending for years together without any steps in the matter. Hence, complaint is dismissed for want of prosecution and steps.
