

Matter is taken up before National Lok adalath.

Plaintiff, defendant and their respective counsels are present before court.

Both the parties already filed compromise petition along with documents.

The contents of the compromise petition are hereby read over to both the parties. They have admitted the correctness and execution of compromise petition by them.

The suit is filed by plaintiff for the relief of Declaration. The plaintiff has agreed to give up the claims over the suit schedule property to the defendant and declared that the defendant is the absolute owner of the same as mentioned in the compromise petition.

Towards this end the plaintiff has received an amount of Rs. 5,00,000/- from the defendant before Lok adalath and put her signature to the order sheet.

The settlement as effected between the parties puts an end to the litigation. Hence, compromise petition is accepted. Resultantly the following order is passed.

ORDER

The suit is hereby decreed as prayed in the compromise petition.

Compromise memo shall form part and parcel of decree.

Draw decree accordingly after receipt of necessary stamp papers.

Conciliators

1. Judge Conciliator
2. Conciliator