

Case called out before the Lok-Adalath.

Both the parties have filed joint memo wherein they have specifically averred that they have settled their dispute amicably and they have divided the joint family properties between themselves in the presence of the elders and as per the settlement they have divided the properties and registered in their names and therefore they are not ready and willing to continue to prosecute or defend the suit. Hence, request this Court may be pleased to dismiss the suit as closed.

Joint memo is placed on record.

On perusal of the joint memo it is reveals that both the parties have settled their dispute amicably in the presence of their elders and divided their properties and registered in their individual names in respect of the suit schedule properties. Further both the parties have not ready and willing to continue to prosecute or defend the suit and the learned counsel for the both the parties and parties to the suit have affixed their signature.

In view of the joint memo filed by the parties to the suit, the present suit is closed.

Sd/-

Non-Judicial Conciliator

sd/-

Judicial Conciliator