....Respondents

This petition was came up for final hearing before me on 13.06.2024 in the presence of Thiru.N.Kumaresan, Advocate for the petitioner and 1st and 2nd respondents are called absent set exparte and of Thiru.A.C.Vasu, Advocate for the 3rd respondent and hearing upon the arguments on both side and perusing the connected records and having stood over till this day for consideration, this tribunal made the following,

ORDER

This Petition filed on 09.08.2023 u/s 166 of Motor Vehicle Act, 1988, claiming compensation for a sum of Rs.10,00,000/- with subsequent interest and cost in connection with the injuries sustained by the petitioner in a Motor vehicle accident.

1) The brief averments of the petition is as follows :

According to the petitioner, he sustained injuries in a road accident on 16.03.2023 at about 09.45 A.M. the petitioner got off the bus at Koyambedu Bus Stop and by walk while going to MMDA Colony is 100 feet Koyambedu road, in extreme left side of the road from North to South direction near Games Village Signal. At that time, the 1st respondent had drove the Honda Activa bearing Reg.No.TN 05 BV 7233 in rash and negligent manner and without following the traffic rules and hit against the petitioner. Due to sudden hit, the petitioner fell down on the road and has sustained bone fracture and grievous injuries. Soon after the accident, the petitioner was taken to Govt. KMC Hospital where he took firstaid and then shifted to Erode Duraisamy Hospital and took treatment as an inpatient. The petitioner was aged about 35 years at the time of the accident and hale and healthy. The Petitioner was doing Car dealer business and earned a sum of Rs.25,000/- per month. The 1st respondent being driver cum owner and 2nd and 3rd respondents being insurer of the offending the Honda Activa bearing registration No. TN 05 BV 7233 they are jointly and severally liable to pay compensation of Rs.10,00,000/- to the petitioner for the injuries sustained by him.

2) The brief averments of the Counter statement filed by the 3rd respondent is as follows:

The averments made in the petition are false, frivolous, vexatious and not maintainable in law and on facts. When the 1st respondent was driving his Scooter from North to South in a slow speed to his left side of the road observing all the rules of traffic, the petitioner who was proceeding from North to South on the said road, suddenly without any signal and without seeing the Scooter coming behind crossed the road and dashed against the scooter and caused the accident. As the petitioner was solely responsible for the accident he is not entitled to claim compensation and the respondents are not liable to pay any compensation. Therefore, it is humbly prayed that this Hon'ble Court may be pleased to dismiss the petition against respondents with compensatory cost and thus render justice. Respondent therefore prays that the petition may be dismissed with costs.

3) The points for consideration :

- 1) Whether the petitioner sustained injuries due to the rash and negligent riding of the 1st respondent ?
- 2) Whether the respondents are jointly and severally liable to pay the compensation to the petitioner ?
- 3) What is the quantum of compensation, the petitioner is entitled to?
- 4) To what other relief ?

4) On the side of the Petitioner, P.W.1 was examined and Ex.P1 to Ex.P14 marked. On the side of the respondents, no oral documentary evidence marked.

5) Point No: 1 Whether the petitioner sustained injuries due to the rash and negligent driving of the 1st respondent?

5 (a) It is the dictum of our Hon'ble Apex Court in "Bimla Devi and others Vs. Himachal Road Transport Corporation and others, reported in (2009) 13 SC 530", "the strict proof of an accident in a particular manner by the particular vehicle may not be possible to be done by the claimants and the claimants are merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability and the standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied". On this context, it is necessary to decide whether the accident occurred due to the rash and negligent driving of 1st respondent herein. The petitioner has examined himself as PW1. As per the evidence of PW1 petitioner has sustained bone fracture and grievous injuries in road accident occurred on 16.03.2023 at about 09.45 A.M., from North to South direction near Games Village Signal. According to the petitioner, the accident occurred due to the rash and negligent driving of 1st respondent who driving Honda Activa bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233.

5 (b) On the basis of the complaint with respect of the accident, Ex.P1 FIR was registered by TIW-Koyambedu Police Station, Chennai-TIW West District in Crime No.41/2023 u/s.279 and 338 IPC. In Ex.P1 FIR, the driver of the motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 is shown as accused. After the registration of Ex.P1 FIR, the investigating officer also visited the place of occurrence and prepared Ex.P7 Rough Sketch, Ex.P8 Observation Mahazar. The vehicles involved in the accident was also sent to motor vehicle inspector for inspection. Ex.P9 motor vehicle report states that the accident had not occurred due to the mechanical defect of the vehicles. As per Ex.P14 Wound Certificate the petitioner has sustained grievous injuries.

5 (c) When the charge sheet was filed against the 1st respondent, the learned counsel for the 3rd respondent is argued that due to the unmindful action of the petitioner suddenly without any signal and without seeing the Scooter coming behind crossed the road and dashed against the scooter and caused the accident. As the petitioner was solely responsible for the accident. Moreover it is pertinent to note that the 1st respondent being driver cum owner and 2nd respondent being insurer of the offending the Honda Activa motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 not chosen to contest the case after receiving the summons and remained exparte. The 3rd respondent who was permitted to contest the case on all grounds which are available to the insured of the offending vehicle under section 170 of M.V. Act also to contradict the evidence of P.W.1 and disprove the negligence as stated against 1st respondent. This petitioner is only a pedestrian on the road.

5 (d) The case being so, when there is no valid rebuttal evidence on the side of the respondents with respect of negligence on the part of the injured, this court is of considered opinion that the evidence of P.W.1 remains unchallenged and the rash and negligent riding of 1st respondent, who is the driver of the Honda Activa motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 is liable for the accident. I answer this point accordingly.

6) Point No:2 Whether the respondents are jointly and severally liable to pay the compensation to the petitioner ?

Already this tribunal has concluded that the 1st respondent drove the Honda Activa motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 and caused the accident due to his rash and negligent riding. Admittedly the 1st respondent being driver and 2nd respondent being owner, and 3rd respondents being insurer of the offending the Honda Activa motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 have not denied the ownership or the insurance. for the offending vehicle namely the Honda Activa motorcycle bearing registration No.TN 05 BV 7233 and the driving license of the 1st respondent is not disputed, and hence respondents are legally liable to compensate the petitioner and 3rd respondent have to indemnify and 1st respondent as insurer. I answer this point accordingly.

7) Point No.3: What is the quantum of compensation, the petitioner is entitled to ?

7(a) Restitutio ad integrum or restitutio in integrum is a Latin term which means restoration to original condition. It is one of the primary guiding principles behind the awarding of damages in common law negligence claims. With respect to just Compensation to be awarded to the victims of motor vehicle accidents, it is necessary to follow “2010 (2) TN MAC 581 (SC) : 2011 (1) SCC 343, Rajkumar /Vs/ Ajay Kumar and another,”, wherein it was held, “The provision of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 makes it clear that the award must be just, which means that compensation should, to the extent possible, fully and adequately restore the Claimant to the position prior to the accident. The object of awarding damages is to make good the loss suffered as a result of wrong done as far as money can do so, in a fair, reasonable and equitable manner. It is also upheld in “AIR 1970 SC 376, C.K.Subramonia Iyer /Vs/ Kunhikuttan Nair”, that a person is not only to be compensated for the physical injury, but also for the loss which he suffered as a result of such injury. This means that he is to be compensated for his inability to lead a full life, his inability to enjoy those normal amenities which he would have enjoyed but for the injuries, and his inability to earn as much as he used to earn or could have earned. Thus, the Compensation should be reasonably sufficient so that it equips the victim to return to their normal life to the maximum possible extent.

7 (b) The right of the victim of a road accident to claim compensation is a statutory one. He is a victim of an unforeseen situation. He has suffered owing to wrongdoing of others. A person suffering grievous bodily injury may require money for his survival/medical treatment. Statutory compensation paid to the next of kin of the victim of an accident may, thus, bring to a large number of families the only ray of light at the end of the tunnel. In other words, what would also be covered by the contract of insurance vis-à-vis the beneficent statutory provisions like sub-section (2) [sic (1)] of Section 149 of the said Act would be when a death or bodily injury has been caused as a result of the assured's own voluntary act. Even an unforeseeable result of the assured's deliberate act may come within the purview of the accident. Even if an accident has occurred due to negligent driving of the assured person, it may not prevent recovery under the policy and certainly thereby a third party would not be non-suited.

7 (c) In “Nagappa Vs Gurudayal Singh and Others” reported in “2003 (2) SCC 274” Honourable Apex court has observed that compensation to a victim of a motor vehicle accident or in case of a fatal accident to the legal representatives is awarded under two heads, namely, Special damages which are suffered by the victim or the legal representatives and General damages which include compensation for pain and sufferings, loss of amenities, earning capacity and prospective expenses including expenses for medical treatment. With regard to the first part of the damages, that is, special damages suffered by the victim or the legal representative, it can be easily proved on the basis of the evidence which is in possession of the claimant. The purpose to compensate the victims is that he may not be suddenly deprived of source of the maintenance and as far as possible he may be provided with the means as were available to him before the accident took place. As pointed out in “1988 (3) All ER. 870 Hodgson /vs/ Trapp and Another,” "The basic rule is that it is the net consequential loss and expense which the Court must measure, it, in consequence of the injuries sustained, the plaintiff has enjoyed receipts to which he would not otherwise have been entitled, prima facie, those receipts are to be set against the aggregate of the plaintiff's losses and expenses in arriving at the measure of his damages. All this is elementary and has been said over and over again. To this basic rule there are of course, certain well established, though not always precisely defined and delineated, exceptions. It is the rule which is fundamental and axiomatic and exceptions to it which are only to be admitted on grounds which clearly justify their treatment as such" Hence it is clear that the deductions are admissible from the amount of compensation in case the claimant receives the benefit as a consequence of injuries sustained, which otherwise he would not have been entitled to.

7 (d) However, with regard to the second part general damages/compensation, it would be a matter of conjectures depending on number of imponderables. Moreover, in “R.D.Hatangadi Vs Press Control (India) Pvt Ltd reported in (1995) 1 SCC 551” Honourable Apex Court has held that while fixing an amount of compensation payable to a victim of an accident, the damages have to be assessed separately as pecuniary and special damages. Pecuniary damages are those which the victim has actually incurred and which is capable of being calculated in terms of money-, whereas non-pecuniary damages are those which are incapable of being assessed by arithmetical calculations. In order to appreciate two concepts pecuniary damages may, include expenses incurred by the claimant : (i) medical attendance; (ii) loss of earning of profit up to the date of trial; (iii) other material loss. So far non-pecuniary damages are concerned, they may include (i) damages for mental and physical shock, pain suffering, already suffered or likely to be suffered in future; (ii) damages to compensate for the loss of amenities of life which may include a variety of matters i.e. on account of injury the claimant may not be able to walk, run or sit; (iii) damages for the loss of expectation of life, i.e. on account of injury the normal longevity of the person concerned is shortened; (iv) inconvenience, hardship, discomfort, disappointment, frustration and mental stress in life.

7 (e) In the light of the guidelines of our Honourable Apex Court, this Tribunal has to assess the compensation that has to be awarded to the claimant/petitioner herein. On perusal of the petition, the petitioner has claimed compensation for sum of Rs.10,00,000/- for the injuries sustained by him in the accident. As per the Guidelines, this Tribunal decides the quantum of compensation to be awarded to the petitioner under the following heads.

1) Loss of earnings 2) Transport to Hospital 3) Extra Nourishment 4) Attender Charge 5) Future medical Expenses 6) Damages to clothing and articles 7) Medical Expenses 8) Compensation for Pain & suffering 9) Permanent Disability 10) Loss of earning Power.

8) 1) LOSS OF EARNINGS :

A compensation for a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as Partial Loss of earnings is claimed by the petitioner. In the accident, the petitioner sustained grievous injuries and was admitted in Erode Duraisamy Hospital from 16.03.2023 to 24.03.2023 which is corroborated through Ex.P2 Discharge Summary. As per the averments in the petition, the Petitioner was working as a Car Dealer Business and a sum of Rs.25,000/- per month. He has not produced any documents to corroborate the same. He has not produced any document to prove his income. This being so, the petitioner has not examined any witness. Hence at this juncture, this tribunal can only decide the income of the petitioner through notional income by following the dictum in “Andal and Two others /Vs/ Avinav kannan and Two others”. The petitioner was aged about 35 years at the time of accident, which is not disputed by the respondent. Considering his age and place of residence, his notional income is fixed as Rs.15,000/- per month. As per the available records, the petitioner was inpatient at Erode Duraisamy Ortho Hospital for nearly 9 days and thereafter took treatment as inpatient. As per Ex.P2 Discharge Summary, the petitioner has sustained communitied fracture both bones distal 3rd left leg and the time taken to heal the injury sustained in the accident, the petitioner ought to have lost earning for at least for a period of 4 months. Hence, the petitioner is entitled for compensation for loss of earnings and it is calculated to the sum of (Rs.15,000 x 4 = 60,000)/-.

2) TRANSPORT TO HOSPITAL :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as Transport to Hospital. As per Ex.P1 FIR, the accident took place on Koyambedu 100 feet Road, Games Village Signal. The petitioner is a resident of Ottapparai Colony, Chennimalai, Erode District. After the occurrence, the petitioner took Erode Duraisamy Ortho Hospital was admitted as inpatient. Considering the place of accident, the residence of the petitioner and the location of the Hospital, this Tribunal comes to a conclusion that a sum of Rs.10,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for Transport to Hospital.

3) EXTRA NOURISHMENT :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as Extra Nourishment. From Ex.P2 Discharge Summary, it could be ascertained that the petitioner took treatment as inpatient. The petitioner ought to have consumed an extra nourishment for quick recovery for the injuries sustained in the accident. Obviously extra nourishment is a must for patient for recovery and health. Considering the nature of injuries and duration of treatment in hospital and later care at home, this tribunal comes to a conclusion that a sum of Rs.15,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for Extra Nourishment.

4) ATTENDER CHARGES :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for Attender Charges. The petitioner took treatment as inpatient in hospital. No doubt, every patient in the hospital needs an attender to take care of. Considering the injuries, the petitioner is in need of an attender to take care of this petitioner even after discharge from the hospital. The petitioner was inpatient and considering the condition of the petitioner, attender was needed atleast for a month. This tribunal comes to a conclusion that a sum of Rs.20,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for Attender Charges.

5) FUTURE MEDICAL EXPENSES :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as Future Medical Expenses. The doctor who treated the petitioner was not examined, who is the competent witness to speak about the future medical expenses by way of removal of implants fixed to the petitioner during surgery. Whether the same has to be removed or not cannot be decided by the tribunal unless an Expert gives opinion. As per the dictum in “National Insurance Company Limited /VS/ Malliga 2013 (1) TN MAC 858,” in the absence of evidence showing that the injured has to undergo future treatment, award of compensation under Future Medical Expenses will not arise.

6) DAMAGES FOR CLOTHES AND ARTICLES :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.5,000/- as Damages for Clothes and Articles. But the petitioner has not contended what damages she has met out in the accident. But obviously the petitioner's clothes and articles ought to have been damaged in the accident. Hence, this tribunal comes to a conclusion that a sum of Rs.5,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for Damages for Clothes and Articles.

7) MEDICAL EXPENSES :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as medical expenses. As per Ex.P2 Discharge summary, the petitioner has sustained comminuted fracture both bones distal 3rd left leg. The petitioner was admitted in Erode Duraisamy Ortho Hospital and took treatment as inpatient and has produced the bills under below exhibits.

S.No.	Exhibits	Amount in Rs.
1.	Ex.P12	1,15,492.00
Total		1,15,492.00

Hence, this tribunal comes to a conclusion that a sum of Rs.1,15,492/- and rounded off to Rs.1,15,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for Medical Expenses.

8) PAIN AND SUFFERINGS :

The petitioner has claimed a compensation for a sum of Rs.2,00,000/- as Pain and sufferings. The petitioner has sustained bone fracture and grievous injuries, which cannot be compensated in terms of money. Not only the Physical pain but also the mental agony felt by the petitioner cannot be described in words and can only be felt. As per the dictum in “2017 (1) TNMAC 238, United India Insurance Company /VS/ Venkatesan and another” it was held that when a claimant underwent 4 surgeries and even now taking treatment, the Hon'ble High Court enhanced the compensation under the head of pain and suffering at the rate of Rs.45,000/- for each surgery. In the present case on hand, the claimant is not taking treatment at present and hence the Tribunal considering the pain and suffering incurred by an accident victim, a sum of Rs.50,000/- will be appropriate to be awarded for pain and suffering.

9) PERMANENT DISABILITY 10) LOSS OF EARNING POWER:

According to the petitioner, he has claimed a sum of Rs.7,00,000/- as Compensation for Permanent disability and loss of earning power. As 15% Partial Permanent Disability was mentioned. On the side of the respondents, it was argued that the disability percentage given to the petitioner is exaggerated and the tribunal cannot assess 15% Partial Permanent Disability for the Petitioner. On the side of the respondent it was argued that the tribunal cannot assess 15% as disability. It is only a Permanent disability not affecting the petitioner's work, but at the same time that may definitely diminish the working power to petitioner. On the other hand it cannot be presumed that he is completely disabled to do any work, rather his functional has been reduced. The petitioner has not proved that he suffered functional disability and hence, he is not entitled to compensation by applying multiplier method. Hence considering the present physical condition of petitioner and the Medical reports this tribunal concludes the disability of the petitioner is 15% Partial Permanent disability. Though the Disability Certificate has not been produced. This court raise to the conclusion that the petitioner has suffered injury and hence as per the gazzete notification dated for assessment of 4, January 2018. Disabilities for atleast 15% disability and hence this Court would assess the disability to be 15% and fix the disability at 15%. Hence, the tribunal hereby relies upon “TNMAC 2020(1) Page.No.617 Chinnathambi VS Deepa and one another” wherein Disability and Loss of earning Power is assessed by following Rs.5,000/- per percentage of disability from the year 2016 and Keeping in view dictum of Hon'ble High Court to increase the amount per percentage this court would grant Rs.6,000/- per percentage . Hence, the compensation is assessed towards loss of earning capacity as follows;

Rs.6000/- X 15 (disability percentage) which comes Rs.90,000/-

Headings			Amount in Rs.
1)	Loss of Earnings	-	60,000
2)	Transport to Hospital	-	10,000
3)	Extra nourishment	-	15,000
4)	Attender Charges	-	20,000
5)	Future Medical Expenses	-	Nil
6)	Damages for Clothes and Articles	-	5,000
7)	Medical Expenses	-	1,15,000
8)	Pain and sufferings	-	50,000
9)	Permanent Disability & Loss of Earning Power	-	90,000
	Total	-	3,65,000

10) Point No:4 To what other relief ?

No other relief the circumstances of the case.

11) a) In the result, this petition in MCOP.416/2023 is allowed in part with proportionate cost and the petitioner is awarded compensation for a sum of Rs.3,65,000/- (Rupees Three Lakhs and Sixty Five Thousand Only) together with interest at the rate of 7.5% per annum from the date of the petition till the notice of deposit given to the petitioner, payable by the 3rd respondent behalf of the 1st respondent.
