CHI/1618/2023

Present: Sh. Amit Siwatch, Ld. APP for the State assisted by
Sh. Ravinder Lakra, Advocate
Accused Narender @ Sonu bail with Sh. Jatinder Kumar, Advocate.

JUDGMENT

Above mentioned accused is facing trial for commission of offence punishable under Section 323, 341 and 506 Indian Penal Code, 1860 (hereinafter referred to as "IPC"). Today the case was fixed for prosecution evidence. However, at this stage, complainant Vijay appeared before the court and moved an application for compounding of the offence under section 323, 341 and 506 IPC by submitting that the parties have arrived at compromise and the proceedings in the instant case be dropped. Complainant Vijay and accused Narender @ Sonu have also given their statement on record to that effect which bears their signatures and are duly identified by respective Counsels.

2. Heard. The parties have agreed to settle the matter after compounding the offence and after burying the acrimony and feeling of bitterness towards each other. As per the section 320 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as “CrPC”) the offences falling under Section 323, 341 and 506 may be compounded by the person to whom the hurt is caused, the person who was restrained and to whom the intimation was made respectively. In the present case, the complainant who suffered the injury and who was restrained and to whom the intimidation was made has now compounded the offence. Therefore, this court after making necessary inquiry is satisfied that such compromise is made by the free will of the complainant and accused without any pressure or coercion and the same will enhance and promote goodwill and feeling of brotherhood amongst the parties. Therefore, in the light of statement made and as per the provision of law, the offence under section 323, 341 and 506 IPC against the accused stands compounded. He is accordingly acquitted. The bail bonds/surety bonds stand discharged. File be consigned to the record room after due compliance.

Pronounced in Open Court.
