Civil M.A.No.35/2025
Kalavati & Ors. Vs. Nil

ORDER BELOW EXH.1

1. Applicants and learned counsel for applicants are absent when repeatedly called till 04.00 p.m.
2. Perused the record. This is an application for issue of heirship certificate. The present application was instituted on 07/01/2025. On perusal of record, it appears that since long applicants are absent.
3. Thereafter, for almost many dates this application was pending without progress. Applicants did not take pain to take steps despite sufficient opportunities for the reason best known to them. Thereafter, on 01/01/2026, the application was kept for dismissal order despite of that applicants did not turned to proceed with the application. It appears that applicants have lost interest in the application, therefore, he remained continuously absent. It appears that applicants are absent without any just cause. No application on behalf of applicants is filed on record. In these circumstances, I do not find any reason for adjourning the case any further. Considering all the above grounds, I pass the following order.

ORDER

1. The application is dismissed in default.
2. Applicants to bear the entire costs of the application.
