

Order below Exh. 20 in R.C.S. No. 68/2017

Read application & say filed by the plaintiff. Present application is filed by defendant, for setting aside 'No WS' order. The delay caused in filing written statement, is not intentional one and there will be no hardship to plaintiff, if present application is allowed. Plaintiff has objected the application on the ground that as written statement is not filed within stipulated period, order of 'No WS' against defendant, came to be passed. Thus, he has prayed for rejection of application. Perused the application alongwith written statement on record. No prejudice would be caused to plaintiff, if defendant is allowed to file written statement on record. On the contrary, it will be helpful to decide the suit on merit. Thus, application is allowed in the interest of justice.
