

Ibrahim @ Ghadulal Rajesaheb Mulla.
Vs.
Masabi Khutabuddin Killedar.

ORDER BELOW EXHIBIT NO. 1

The present application has filed under Order 39, Rule 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon perusal of record it reveals that, application is pending for evidence and applicant is absent and failed to proceed with the application since long. The matter is more than 7 years old and pending unattended, therefore, by passing order below Exh.1 on 23/12/2025, I granted last chance to applicant and posted matter for further order.

02. Today, applicant is absent when called repeatedly. No application for adjournment on behalf of applicant is on record. However, applicant remained absent and failed to take steps. Applicant remain absent without justifiable reason. Considering the matter it appears that, applicant is continuously absent and not interested to proceed with the matter. The sufficient opportunities were granted for taking necessary steps to the applicant but in vain. I did not find any justifiable reason to further adjourn the proceeding. Therefore, no purpose will be served to keep the matter pending. Thus, the Court is left with no other option than to dismiss the application in default. Hence, the order.

ORDER

The application is dismissed in default.
