ORDER BELOW EXH.66 IN CRI.M.A.86/2022

Perused the application, heard learned advocate for both sides. It transpires from record that non applicant was sentenced for imprisonment for one month for default of payment of amount of interim maintenance by an order below Exh.01 dated 14/02/2025. Today, learned advocate for non applicant has appeared and filed application for depositing Rs.45,000/- towards interim maintenance. Applicant along with her advocate present. She submitted that she is ready to accept the amount and have no objection for releasing non applicant. Applicant has received Rs.45,000/- towards interim maintenance. Learned advocate for non applicant submitted that soon after the release of non applicant, he will deposit remaining amount of maintenance. Thus, considering submissions of both the parties, it will be appropriate to release non applicant. At the same time, it will be appropriate to direct non applicant to comply with the order of interim maintenance without fail. Accordingly, in view of discussion supra, I pass following order.

ORDER

1. As non applicant Hari Dnyandev Magdum has paid substantial amount of interim maintenance, he be released forthwith.
2. Non applicant to comply with the interim maintenance amount without fail.
