Today, the accused is present in National Lok Adalat. The particulars of offence are read over to the accused. He voluntarily pleaded guilty to offence. He also filed pursis stating that he is voluntarily pleading guilty to the said offence and he orally prayed to impose minimum punishment. He further submitted that, he is poor, his financial condition is not well. His family depends upon him. Therefore, he prayed to impose minimum fine. Considering the nature of offence and taking in view the voluntariness of accused, his plea of guilt is accepted and leniency can be shown so far as substantive sentence of imprisonment and fine amount is concerned. According to para 54 of Chapter VI of the Criminal Manual by recording the reasons the punishment less than minimum prescribed by law can be awarded. Therefore, today is National Lokadalat the accused voluntarily pleaded guilty. The accused is not having any criminal antecedence and his family is depending upon him. Considering the submission of the accused as well as his financial capacity it seems just and proper to impose lesser punishment i.e. fine amount to him. In the result, I pass following order:
