ORDER BELOW EXH.1.

Motor accident claim petition is fixed for judgment on failure of the parties to make arguments. When the matter is taken up for judgment, it can be seen that no evidence is led by the claimant. Ld. predecessor forfeited the right of the claimant and the respondent also to lead evidence. As there is no evidence regarding motor accident as well as injury arose out of motor accident and the nature of injury, it would be difficult to decide motor accident claim petition. The police papers filed on record with injury certificate shows fracture to the claimant. However, it needs to be proved by adducing the evidence. Considering the nature of the claim-petition, it would be necessary to give a last chance to the claimant to come before the Tribunal and to lead evidence if any. Accordingly, issue notice on court motion to the claimant to appear on the next date.
