8. The applicant has himself stated in the application that the original bill of the animals were seized by the Investigating Officer as per pursis below Exh. 06. The say of the Investigating Officer was called and he admitted in his reply at Exh. 07 that the original bills were seized. It seems applicant is an agriculturist and owner of the animals. No other person apart from Goshala has applied for custody. No purpose will be served by keeping the animals at Goshala.

9. Section 8 of the Maharashtra Animal Preservation Act, 1976 is to be considered before passing any order. It the proviso under section 8 of the Maharashtra Animal Preservation Act, 1976 clearly mentions that during the pendency of the trial, seized cow, bull or bullock shall be handed over to the nearest Gosadan, Goshala, Panjarpol, Hinsanivaran Sangh or such other animal welfare organization willing to except such custody and the accused shall be liable to pay the maintenance for the period they remain custody with any of the said institutions as per order of the court. Hence, as per law the applicant/accused is liable to pay maintenance charges to the Goshala.

10. It is clear that the Goshala has right to claim maintenance amount from the applicant. However, in order to decide the quantum the government resolution of the animal welfare board is relevant. As per the circular of the Maharashtra Animal Welfare Board bearing Marathi No.

व्हीईटी/एडब्ल्युबीआय/५६८/६३९५/अ/२०१८-१९/पसं-12, औंध, पुणे-६७, dated 02/03/2019, the maintenance amount for cattle per day is Rs.200/- and for calf per day is Rs. 150/-. In the present case 10 animals are seized. There is no dispute as to ownership. The per day maintenance of each cow is Rs.200/-. Hence, I pass the following order:
