

MHNG130019542024

R.C.S. No. 129/2024
Navneet Vs. Nandlal & Oths.

Order below Exh. 5

(Passed on dated 25/10/2024)

The present suit is filed by plaintiff for declaration and permanent injunction. Today, defendant No. 1 appeared in person and filed preliminary reply at Exh. 5. Perused the application and documents filed along with the suit. Heard Shri. R.S. Thakare for the plaintiff. Today, when repeatedly called out defendant No. 1 absent. The say at Exh. 9 and application at Exh. 8 filed by defendant No. 1 through his attorney. Today, the Advocate of plaintiff humbly requested for interim injunction against defendant No. 1. The documents placed before me shows that the plaintiff is joint owner of suit property. The plaintiff and defendant No. 2 to 4 purchased suit property by registered sale deed dated 20/10/2011 and sale deed dated 30/11/2017. The plaintiff and defendant No. 2 to 4 are having equal right in the suit property. The defendant No. 1 is not having any right in suit property. Hence, defendant No. 1 is hereby temporarily restrained from entering in suit property and for doing or carrying out any other activity over the suit property. The defendant No. 1 is also temporarily restrained to interfering or obstructing the peaceful possession and enjoyment of plaintiff over suit property till hearing at Exh. 5.

Ramtek.
Date :- 25/10/2024.

(H.S. Satpute)
Jt. Civil Judge Jr.Dn., Ramtek.