

Order below Exh.29.

The present application is filed by the plaintiff for police protection for executing earlier order passed by this Court vide Exh. 05 temporary injunction on dated 21/04/2026 on the ground mentioned in the application.

2. The application was opposed by the defendant by giving reply vide Exh. 32 and objected to the application on the ground that, plaintiff has not stated in the application about the obstruction at the hands of defendant and lastly prayed to reject the application.

3. I have heard argument of both advocates. I have perused records of the suit. Admittedly, the injunction application of the plaintiff was allowed by Learned Predecessor of this Court on 21/04/2026. It is pertinent to note that, the injunction order is in existence till date. As per submission of advocate for defendant that, the appeal is pending against said order before Appellate Court. The application is supported by affidavit of plaintiff. It is plaintiff, who has right to enjoy the order passed in his favour. As per his submission that, defendant are obstructing to enjoy order for cultivating his land. Advocate for defendant is admitting the possession of plaintiff over the suit property. Therefore, in order to execution of injunction application and to enjoy suit property of plaintiff, the application required to be allowed to protect the earlier order. Hence, application is deserve to be allowed. With these reasoning I proceed to pass following order-

ORDER

1. Application is allowed.
2. Inspector in-charge of concerned Police Station, Omerga is directed to provide police assistance of one female and three male constable to the plaintiff at the time of cultivating suit property.
