CNR No. MHRGO10039282018
Yogesh & Anr. V/s Anil & Anr.

ORDER BELOW EXH. 11

01. The applicant filed application for granting interim stay.

02. It is contended by the applicant that initially by passing order below Exh. 4 interim stay was granted. However, inadvertently, the interim stay could not be extended. Hence, it is prayed that the interim stay order be continued.

03. The opponent resisted the application. According to him, the applicant is avoided to argue the matter finally. Hence, the interim stay could not be continued.

04. Heard both sides and perused the record.

05. It is evident that by passing order below Exh. 4 on 11/12/2018 and the impugned order was stayed till next date. Thereafter, from time to time stay was extended upto 06/12/2019. However, thereafter, the stay is not extended. After hearing the applicant and after perusing the material, interim stay was granted on 11/12/2018 which was extended from time to time. However, on 06/12/2019, the applicant could not file application to extend the stay. The applicant is ready to finally argue the matter. In such circumstances, it is desirable to stay the impugned order by reviving the order passed below Exh. 4. Else the revision application would become infructuous. Hence, I pass following order :-

ORDER

1. Application Exh.11 is allowed.
2. The order granting interim stay passed below Exh. 4 dated 11/12/2018 is revived and the stay is extended till next date.
