Heard both sides and perused record.
It appears that the applicant respondent is seeking writ of habeas corpus of petitioner. The respondent is coming with the defence regarding extra-marital affair of petitioner with some other person by name Bapu Mane. It appears that Respondent to establish his defence has filed the present application.

The petitioner strongly objected the application by relying on the Art 19 & 21 of the Constitution.

It appears from the record that the respondent is trying to collect evidence through Court machinery for establishing his defence at this stage. This Court is not having jurisdiction to pass order as sought by the respondent regarding writ of habeas corpus. Further note the stage of the case is not of the evidence as the evidence of petitioner is not completed. The counter allegations & the evidence relied upon by the respondent will be looked into at the stage of hearing of the respondent. The application cannot be entertained due to lack of jurisdiction & also devoid of merits. Hence I pass following order.

1) Application Exh 37 is rejected.
