R.C.S. No.27/2024

Order below Exhibit 14

1. This is an application by defendant no.1 praying to set aside no WS order passed against him.
2. It is contended by the defendant that, the delay by him is not intentional, he is less educated farmer with no knowledge of law, hence it took time to arrange necessary documents, he will suffer huge irreparable loss if his WS is not taken on record. Hence, prayed to set aside no WS order.
3. Say of other side was called on 20.12.2024 yet they did not file their say. Hence this application is being decided uncontested and unchallenged.
4. Perused the application, supporting affidavit, documents filed on record.
5. After perusing this application no satisfactory reason for delay is found. But it being a suit for declaration and injunction, excluding any person having share in the suit property may amount to unfair unexecutable decree, which deserves to be avoided. Yet considering a fair opportunity in the interest of justice and proper execution, I find that the defendant no.1 deserves an opportunity to file his WS. Hence, the order:-
