

Order Below Exh.62 In R.C.S.378/2022
(CNR No MHSN050019602022)

The defendant has filed the present application seeking adjournment.

2. Read the application and say. Application shows that for want of sufficient instruction the defendant is unable to conduct cross examination. Ld. advocate appearing for the plaintiff filed say wherein it has stated to reject the application. However, the Ld. advocate appearing for both the parties orally submitted that subject matter and parties in R.C.S. No.378/2022 & Special Civil Suit No.36/2023 are the same. Therefore, they are intending to club both the suits together. Considering the oral submissions made by the Ld. advocate appearing for both the parties, application deserves to be allowed. In the result, I pass the following order.

ORDER
