

Order below Exh.01 in RCA No.65/2020

The present appeal is arising from the judgment and decree passed in partition suit. Appellants and respondents are relative inter-se.

Today, the appellant No.1 to 3, respondent No.1, legal representatives of respondent No.1 & 2, two legal representatives of respondent No.3 and respondent No.5 are personally present before the Court. Though the all parties are not present before the court but considering the nature of the dispute among the parties, I found elements of settlement.

The parties present before the Court have been asked for their willingness to refer the matter for mediation to which they answered positively. Hence, the matter be referred for the mediation.
