..... Petitioner/Complainant

Vs

Manimegalai,
S/o.Muniyandi.

..... Respondent/Accused

The Petition came up for final hearing before me on 18.04.2026 in the presence of Thiru. A.Poornachandran, B.A., B.L., Learned counsel for the Petitioner. None appears for Respondent side. After hearing enquiry on Petitioner side and after perusal of entire material records and evidence placed before this court and having stood over for consideration till this date, this court delivers the following :

ORDER

1. The petitioner/complainant has filed the present petition under Section 5 of the Limitation Act seeking to condone the representation delay of 17 days.

Gist of the Petition

2. The Petitioner states in his affidavit that the petitioner filed a Cheque Dishonor case against the Respondent/Accused. In this situation, due to his ill – health, the Petitioner was unable to meet his counsel and file the case within the stipulated time frame. This delay was unexpected and occurred because the petitioner could not meet with the counsel in time. Currently there has been a delay of 17 days from 06.05.2025 to 22.05.2025. Due to which the petitioner was unable to represent the complaint within the stipulated time. The above act was not done intentionally, but occurred due the reasons stated herein and it is necessary condone delay of 17 days. The petitioner further states that if this petition is not allowed he will be put to irreparable loss and hardship and hence prayed to allow the petition.

4. Notice to the respondent served but not appeared. Even after sufficient opportunities given, the accused had not filed counter. Hence, the opportunity to file the counter was closed.

Point to be determined

5. Whether the delay of 17 days to be condoned or not?

Discussion

6. Upon perusal it is seen that the complainant had stated in his petition when this case was supposed to be filed, due to his ill-health, the Petitioner was unable to meet his counsel and file the case within the stipulated time frame. This delay was unexpected and occurred because the petitioner could not meet with the counsel in time. Currently there has been a delay of 17 days from 06.05.2025 to 22.05.2025. Due to the above reasons there was 17 days delay in filing this case. The said delay was not wanton and willful. Due to which the petitioner was unable to represent the complaint within the stipulated time. The above act was not done intentionally, but occurred due the reasons stated herein and it is necessary condone delay of 17 days. The petitioner further states that if this petition is not allowed he will be put to irreparable loss and hardship and hence prayed to allow the petition.

7. It is well settled principle that while dealing with the condone delay petitions “a liberal and justice oriented approach” should be adopted particularly when the delay is minimal and the cause is not deliberately made up. Moreover generally the delay cannot be condoned without sufficient cause but a major aspect has to be in mind is that if in a particular case the merits have to be examined it should not be scuttled merely on the basis of limitation. Similarly upon refusing the condonation, it is all more probable that the matter would be thrown out on the basis of technicalities, in which event, the petitioner may be prejudiced.

8. In the present case considering the above this court is inclined to accept the cause shown and accordingly in the interest of justice the representation delay of 17 days is hereby condoned.

Result

9. Henceforth, for the above analysis made, the petition is allowed.
