Vs

The State rep. by
The Inspector of Police,

(Cr.No.647/2026)

... Respondent / Complainant

The petition coming on this day for final hearing before me in the presence of Thiru. S. Muthuselvam, Advocate for the petitioners and Thiru. P. Baskaran, Public Prosecutor for the State, after hearing both sides and perusing the written reply submitted by the respondent and records, this court delivers the following ...

2. This is an application for anticipatory bail in respect of a case registered against the petitioners / accused u/s.191(2), 191(3), 296(b), 115(2), 118(1) and 351(3) BNS.

3. The learned counsel for the accused submits that the accused are an innocent persons and they have not committed any offence. If they are enlarged on anticipatory bail, they would furnish sufficient sureties.

4. The prosecution is given notice. The learned Public Prosecutor strongly objected to release the accused on the ground that the investigation is not yet completed.

5. Considering the rival submissions, it is noticed that the occurrence has taken place on 19.06.2026 and except Section 118(1) BNS, the other offences are bailable in nature. As per the prosecution theory, the present accused along with the other accused, formed an unlawful assembly and carried deadly weapons. Further, they used abusive words towards the de-facto complainant and also voluntarily caused simple injuries to the de-facto complainant by means of a weapon. Besides that, they threatened the de-facto complainant with dire consequences. Such being the case of the prosecution, the learned Public Prosecutor admits that the injured has been discharged from the hospital. Therefore, most part of the investigation ought to have been completed. The accused persons seemed to be first offenders. No previous case pending against them. They have permanent residence within the jurisdiction of the respondent police station. Therefore, there is no possibility of fleeing from justice. They seem to be the sole breadwinners of the family. Having regard to the totality of the facts and circumstances of the case, this court is inclined to consider the anticipatory bail application of the petitioners with the following conditions.
