7.1) In the present case, accused was charged under section 4(i)(a), 4(i)(h) of TNP Act. It is the case of the prosecution that on 30.03.2022 at 12.00PM, PW1, PW2 and LW3 who are police officials in Tirupathur Town Police Station, were carrying out routine rounds in order to curb liquor sale in Gowthampettai, which is situated within the jurisdiction of the Tirupathur Town Police Station. At that time, the accused was found standing and he ran away seeing the police and when they went to the said place, they found that the same contained 90ml of OLD SECRET XXX RUM - 6, 180 ML Diamond XXX Rum-4. It is pertinent to note that the properties have been seized from the accused in the presence of PW1 and PW2, vide ExP-1, seizure mahazar. PW1, PW2 has clearly deposed that the accused was found with bottles of 10 number. It is argued by the Learned counsel for the defense side that no independent witnesses have been examined in the present case and all the witnesses are police officials. It is argued by the Learned counsel for the defense side that since the complainant and the investigation officer who carried out preliminary investigation are one and the same, and the prosecution side has failed to establish that a fair investigation had taken place in the present case. However the Hon'ble Supreme Court in "Govindaraju @ Govinda V. State by Sriramapuram P.S" - [2012(78) ACC 545 (SC)] has held as follows:-

"16. This Court in the case of Girja Prasad (supra) while particularly referring to the evidence of a police officer, said that it is not the law that Police witnesses should not be relied upon and their evidence cannot be accepted unless it is corroborated in material particulars by other independent evidence. The presumption applies as much in favour of a police officer as any other person. There is also no rule of law which lays down that no conviction can be recorded on the testimony of a police officer even if such evidence is otherwise reliable and trustworthy. The rule of prudence may require more careful scrutiny of their evidence. If such a presumption is raised against the police officers without exception, it will be an attitude which could neither do credit to the magistracy nor good to the public, it can only bring down the prestige of the police administration.

17. Wherever, the evidence of the police officer, after careful scrutiny, inspires confidence and is found to be trustworthy and reliable, it can form the basis of conviction and the absence of some independent witness of the locality does not in any way affect the creditworthiness of the prosecution case"

7.2. As per the Judgment, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that there exists no statutory provision precluding the acceptance of police testimony, nor is it requisite that such testimony be corroborated by the evidence of private individuals. Provided that upon careful scrutiny, the police evidence is found to be credible and admissible, the absence of private witnesses to the incident shall not be detrimental to the prosecution's case. Consequently, this Court is of the considered opinion that the aforementioned submission advanced on behalf of the accused is legally untenable. Furthermore, having duly considered the examination-in-chief and cross-examination of P.W-1 to P.W-3, their testimony has in no way prejudiced the prosecution's case. Moreover, it is apparent that their testimonies are mutually consistent and they have deposed clearly regarding all particulars of the incident. Therefore, this Court determines that the rejection of their evidence solely due to the absence of private witnesses would not be consonant with the administration of justice. Thus the prosecution side has prove the guilt of the accused under section 4(i)(a) TNP Act.

7.3) In the present case, the accused is charged against under section 4(i)(h) TNP Act. As per the section 4(i)(h) TNP Act, the bottling of any liquor for purposes of sale has been prohibited. In the present case, it is the case of the prosecution that the accused was found with 90ml of OLD SECRET XXX RUM 6, 180 ML Diamond XXX Rum-4. However, the prosecution side has nowhere stated that the accused bottle the said liquor. Thus the prosecution side has failed to establish that the accused at bottle the present liquors for sale. Thus, ingredients of section 4(1)(h) TNP Act is not made against accused. Thus section 4(1)(h) TNP Act is not made out the against accused.

8) In the result the Accused is found not guilty under sections 4(1)(h) TNP Act, and the Accused is found guilty under sections 4(1)(a) TNP Act and is sentenced to a fine of Rs.1000/- only u/s. 255(2) Crpc. No imprisonment imposed.

9) C.P. No. 223/2023 is ordered to be destroyed as per the procedure under the Criminal Rules of Practice after the expiry of appeal duration. If no appeal for the case, the bond executed by the accused to be canceled.
