This Suit having been finally heard on 24-05-2023 and after considering the matter this court delivered the following:

JUDGMENT

Suit for Partition.

2. The suit was filed by plaintiff for partitioning the plaint schedule property and for allotting of his share.

3. Defendant appeared and parties were referred for mediation. The matter was settled and a mediation agreement was entered into between plaintiff and defendant. The terms of agreement are found lawful and hence accepted and recorded.

4. As per the said mediation agreement the parties have reported to pass a final decree in terms of the mediation agreement.

In the result, the final decree is passed as follows:-

- 1) 'A' schedule property shown in the schedule appended to the mediation agreement is allotted to the share of plaintiff.
- 2) 'B' schedule property shown in the schedule appended to the mediation agreement is allotted to the share of defendant .
- 3) The parties shall have equal right in the 'C' schedule property shown in the schedule appended to the mediation agreement.
- 4) Parties shall deposit the value of the non-judicial stamp paper for engrossing the final decree.
- 5) Mediation agreement and the schedules appended to it shall form part of this decree.
- 7) Considering the nature and circumstance of the application and the relationship of both parties, costs need not be ordered. Hence there is no order as to costs.
