

Cr. Misc. Case No. 425/2026
CNR No. WBHW0100 1138 2026
Present: Sri Mainak Dasgupta
Sessions Judge, In-charge, Howrah.
J.O. Code – WB01070

Order No.02 dated 10.03.2026.

The application u/S.482 BNSS arising out of U.N. Pur P.S. Case No. 07 of 2026 dated 16.01.2026 u/Ss. 329(4)/115(2)/76/351(2)/79 of BNS, filed by the accused/ petitioner namely, Sri Sushanta Jana, is taken up for hearing.

Heard Ld. Advocate for the accused/petitioner who submitted that the allegations are absolutely false and such arose over the property dispute. It was also asserted that the de facto complainant is the 'Bhaiji' of the present petitioner. Ld. Advocate further submitted that there are also civil suit pending between the petitioner and the de facto complainant in the Court of Ld. Civil Judge (Jr.Divn.) Amta and has filed documents to that effect. With such submissions, Ld Advocate for the accused/petitioner asserted the prayer for anticipatory bail.

Ld.P.P. has fairly submitted that investigation has already ended and a charge sheet has been submitted.

Perused the case diary & TCR.

Considered the submission made by the Ld. Advocate for the accused and the Ld Public Prosecutor.

REASONS

As regards pre arrest bail the Hon'ble Apex Court in Sadhna Chaudhary Vs. State of Rajasthan & Anr., reported in 2022 (237) AIC 205 (SC), has been pleased to hold as follows:-

"14. Law on the applicability or grant of anticipatory bail under section 438 Cr.P.C. may be briefly summarised as under: 14.1. In Shri Gurbaksh Singh Sibbia and Others v. State of Punjab, a Constitution Bench of this Court, Chief Justice Y.V. Chandrachud, speaking for the Court dealt with in detail on the considerations for grant of anticipatory bail. 14.2. In Siddharam Satlingappa Mhetre vs. State of Maharashtra and Others²; this Court relying upon the Constitution Bench judgment in Shri Gurbaksh Singh Sibbia laid down in paragraph 112 of the report the following factors and parameters to be considered while dealing with an application for anticipatory bail:

"(i) The nature and gravity of the accusation and the exact role of the accused must be properly comprehended before arrest is made;

(ii) The antecedents of the applicant including the fact as to whether the accused has previously undergone imprisonment on conviction by a court in respect of any cognizable offence;

(iii) The possibility of the applicant to flee from justice;

(iv) The possibility of the accused's likelihood to repeat similar or other offences;

(v) Where the accusations have been made only with the object of injuring or humiliating the applicant by arresting him or her;

(vi) Impact of grant of anticipatory bail particularly in cases of large magnitude affecting a very large number of people;

(vii) The courts must evaluate the entire available material against the accused very carefully. The court must also clearly comprehend the exact role of the accused in the case. The cases in which the accused is implicated with the help of Sections 34 and 149 of the Penal Code, 1860 the court should consider with even greater care and caution because over implication in the cases is a matter of common knowledge and concern;

(viii) While considering the prayer for grant of anticipatory bail, a balance has to be struck between two factors, namely, no prejudice should be caused to the free, fair and full investigation and there should be prevention of harassment, humiliation and unjustified detention of the accused;

(ix) The court to consider reasonable apprehension of tampering of the witnesses or apprehension of threat to the complainant;

x) Frivolity in prosecution should always be considered and it is only the element of genuineness that shall have to be considered in the matter of grant of bail and in the event of there being some doubt as to the genuineness of the prosecution, in the normal course of events, the accused is entitled to an order of bail."

Considering all such attending circumstances and also considering the fact that no previous criminal antecedents of the petitioner has been brought for, the petitioner should be granted relief as prayed for.
