

Gurdeep Singh Vs. State of Punjab

CIS No.BA/1716/2020

CNR No.PBHO010041522020

Present: Sh.JBS Gill, ld.counsel for applicant.
Ms.Mandeep Chahal, ld.APP for State.

By way of this order I will dispose of present bail application.

It is argued by the ld.counsel for accused that the accused is innocent and has been falsely implicated in the present case. The injuries attributed to the accused are simple in nature. The FIR has been registered on 10.5.2006, which is result of consultation and due deliberations. In this case Harinder Singh co-accused of the applicant has also received injuries at the hands of the complainant party who were also admitted in the hospital. Both the parties have been discharged from the hospital. No grievous injury attributed to the accused. Hence, accused be released on bail.

On the other hand, it is argued by the ld.APP for State that serious offence has been committed by the accused. Hence, accused be not released on bail.

I have heard the arguments of ld.APP for State and ld.counsel for accused.

The injury No.3 and 4 on the part of the complainant is grievous in nature. Thus, keeping in view the seriousness of offence and the injuries attributed to the present accused, the accused is not entitled to concession of bail as offence U/S 326 IPC has been attributed to the accused. If this is so, there are chances of fleeing of accused from the jurisdiction of this court and there are also chances of tampering with the prosecution evidence by the accused. As such, keeping in view the seriousness of offence, accused is not entitled to concession of bail and his bail application is hereby dismissed. File be consigned to the record room.
