

In this case defendant filed the written statement on 19.11.2025. The plaintiff counsel objected the same and contended that, the defendant filed the written statement beyond the period of statutory period. Hence, it cannot be accepted.

Perused the materials available on record, the summons to the defendant was served on 08.07.2025 and he appeared through counsel on 27.07.2025. It means the period of filing of the written statement start from the date of service of summons i.e., 08.07.2025. The defendant ought to have filed the written statement within 30 days i.e., 08.08.2025. But the defendant filed the written statement beyond 30 days and extended time limit i.e., 19.11.2025. Hence, the defendant counsel directed to file necessary application to accept the written statement.
