.....Respondent

This petition is coming for final hearing before me in the presence of Sri S.V.Ratnakara Rao, Advocate for petitioner and of Sri D.V.S.S.A.N.Ramalinga Raju, Advocate for Respondent and the same having been stood over for consideration till this day, the Court made the following:-

ORDER

This petition is filed by the petitioner under section 13 (1) (ia) (ib) of Hindu Marriage Act, seeking divorce by dissolving the marriage between the petitioner and respondent dt.29.11.2009.

On 28.03.2012, after receiving notice, the respondent appeared before this Court. On 30.04.2012 itself both parties filed a joint memo expressing their view to dissolve their marriage dt.29.11.2009, they agreed to live separately. They have no right to claim against each other and not to file any criminal cases against each other. The petitioner paid Rs.6 lakhs to the respondent towards permanent alimony. F.S. memo filed and recorded. On 13.05.2012, this Court tried for reconciliation for reunion of the petitioner and respondent, but the parties stick on to their stand for separation, hence, reconciliation failed. Hence the matter adjourned for passing of final order. Now the 6 months mandatory period even for taking mutual divorce is over. In view of the joint memo filed by both parties as the respondent received Rs.6 lakhs from the petitioner towards permanent alimony and decided to live separately from the petitioner, a decree of divorce is granted by dissolving the marriage between the petitioner and respondent dated 29.11.2009. Petition is allowed accordingly.

In the result, a decree of divorce is granted by dissolving the marriage between the petitioner and respondent dated 29.11.2009. Petition is allowed accordingly.

Pronounced by me in open court, this the 8th day of OCTOBER, 2012.
