

Ashok Kumar Vs Home Credit India etc
CS 1298-2023

Present: Sh. Mohit Bansal, Adv for applicant/defendant no.3
Sh. Naresh Kumar, Adv for respondent/plaintiff

This order of mine shall dispose of an application moved by the applicant/defendant no.3 for directing the plaintiff to produce on file copy of the agreement between the plaintiff and defendant no.3 and the statement of loan account allegedly issued by defendant no.3 in favour of the plaintiff.

2. It is averred in the application that plaintiff has alleged in his plaint that he had availed mobile loan from the defendant no.3 payable him 24 EMIs and had been paying EMIs against the said loan regularly through online mobile app. It is further averred that in order to file written statement, applicant/defendant no.3 wants to peruse the alleged loan agreement and the statement of loan account. Lastly, he prayed that present application may kindly be accepted and plaintiff be directed to produce the aforesaid documents and to supply one copy of the same to the applicant. Hence this application.

3. Upon notice, reply to the above said application was not filed but learned counsel defendant no.3/applicant suffered the statement that he has received documents mentioned in the application from plaintiff. As such, the present application i.e. IA/2/2024 is hereby disposed of. Now to come up on 15.07.2025 for filing written
