ORDER

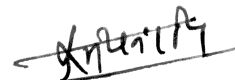

The accused voluntarily pleads guilty of the offence with which accused is charged herein. Upon inquiry, I have found that the guilt so confessed by the accused is without any compulsion, force or inducement. I have also informed the accused that in case accused pleads guilty of the offence, accused might be subjected to the punishment as prescribed by law and therefore, accused should not be under an impression that only because of his such confession, the court would think of awarding accused lesser or lenient punishment. Even then the accused asserts that accused is voluntarily pleading guilty.

Being convinced of the voluntary nature of plea of guilt of the accused person, I accept the same. Having regard to the nature of crime committed by the accused and having heard the accused and prosecution, I am of the opinion that following sentence shall serve the ends of justice. Hence the order
