Order on Board

24.02.2026

1. Learned counsel for the petitioner at the outset would submit that original petitioner is having his wife and son but they are also not taking care of the petition and not in contact with him. Since the original petitioner has died and his legal representatives even the brother of the petitioner, who has filed the application for substitution, are not in contact with him learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that he is having no instructions in the case.

2. In view of the submissions made by learned counsel for the petitioner, present petition stands dismissed for want of prosecution.

3. Legal representatives of the original petitioner are at liberty to revive their prayer, if cause of action still survives.
