

HIGH COURT OF CHHATTISGARH AT BILASPUR

CRR No. 1416 of 2025

Smt. Susmita Deb Versus Phalguni Deb

Order Sheet

24/11/2025	Heard Mr. Priyank Rathi, learned counsel, appearing for the applicant. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant is the wife of the non-applicant. Although she was employed and earning Rs. 60,127/-, she has been suffering from Cancer Antigen, Adenomyoma, and L4-L5 spinal issues. It is stated that the income earned by the applicant has been entirely spent on her medical treatment. The trial Court has also found that she is living separately for sufficient cause. Hence, even though she earns, she is still entitled to maintenance. He further submits that the non-applicant, who is the husband of the applicant, earns an amount of Rs. 3,00,000/- in a private firm. Therefore, the applicant has sought maintenance under Section 125 of Cr.P.C, as her ongoing medical treatment requires substantial financial support.

Hence, the amount of maintenance needs to be determined.

Let notice be issued to the non-applicant.

The notice shall be served upon the non-applicant through the concerned Superintendent of Police, in addition to the normal mode of service.

The Registrar (Judicial) is directed to communicate about passing of this order to the concerned Superintendent of Police, for necessary information and compliance.

List the matter again on 16 December, 2025.
