05.03.2025

1. While learned proxy counsel for the appellant submits that the parties are still endeavoring to arrive at an amicable settlement, learned counsel for the respondents dispute the said position.
2. However, since learned arguing counsel for the appellant is stated to be in a personal difficulty, hearing is being deferred, making it clear that if the parties do not arrive at any amicable settlement before the next date, the Court will endeavor to take up the appeal for disposal on the next date.
3. Both sides are also granted further eight weeks time to file their respective written submissions not running into more than seven pages each in terms of the order dated 15.02.2024.

4. List on 28.07.2025.
