		undergo rigorous imprisonment for a period of seven years and to pay a fine of Rs.50,000/- for the offence under Section 9(m) read with Section 10 of POCSO Act, 2012 and in default of payment of fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of six months and further sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment for a period of three years and to pay a fine of Rs.50,000/- for the offence under Section 354-A of IPC and in default of payment of fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of six months. Both the sentenced imposed are directed to run concurrently and further directed to pay the fine amount of Rs.1,00,000/-to the victim girl as compensation. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Additional Public Prosecutor. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is innocent of the said allegations and that though there is no evidence on record to prove the guilt of the petitioner, the trial court erroneously convicted the petitioner and that the petitioner is having good grounds to succeed in the appeal. Therefore, he prayed the Court to allow the petition. On the other hand, learned Additional Public Prosecutor opposed the bail petition, contending that there is no illegality in the judgment of the trial court and that trial court rightly sentenced the petitioner and that there are no merits in the petition. Perused the contents of the affidavit filed in
