26.	28.11.2025	JAK, J On the last occasion, when the matter came up for hearing, on the submissions of both the counsels and on agreement of the counsels, this Court orally requested GHMC to mark a dividing line, since the road is the issue, where Tapadia Diagnostic Centre has been highlighting its woes and so are the residents of the apartments adjacent to the Diagnostic Centre. The entire issue revolves around the place of parking. A Second Appeal on the same issue is pending before this Court. Pending Second Appeal, this contempt case is taken up only for a peaceful neighbourhood existence between the long standing neighbours. 		patient upto the door of the diagnostic centre and then take it back and park it in the appropriate parking place, which is allotted to the diagnostic centre. At least, this would not precipitate matters, till the second appeal is heard. It is also made clear that residents of the apartment shall cooperate, so that there is a peaceful atmosphere. It is imperative that all citizens in the society should give in for the larger interest of public for a peaceful existence. It is only for this reason, this Court directed the GHMC authorities to make a marking, and place the mobile dividers, so that at least there is no other division in the minds of the persons or citizens who are existing in the same locality. List the matter on 05.12.2025. JAK,J Rsp
