ORDER

By order dated 21.04.2025, an order directing one Mr.T.Radhakrishnan, who was impleaded as a defendant, was directed to vacate and hand over the possession of the room in his possession on or before 15.05.2025.

2. Today, when the matter is taken up for hearing, a report had been filed by the learned Administrator, indicating that the said Mr.T.Radhakrishnan had handed over the keys to the Principal on 28.05.2025, indicating that he had vacated with all his belongings and that a few almirahs in the room belonged to his sister-in-law, Mrs.Prema and that he had also handed over one key to her. The report further indicates that the said Mrs.Prema had refused to vacate her belongings as the order of this Court is only against Mr.Radhakrishnan. A letter from the Principal of the college, who is the first plaintiff in CS No. 56 of 2025, was also annexed to the typed set filed by the learned Administrator. A perusal of the letter would further support the assertions made by the learned Administrator in his report and would also indicate that the said Mr.Radhakrishnan was treating patients as usual even after he handed over the room. There is no representation for the said impleaded respondent Mr.Radhakrishnan today.

3. This Court, having found that Mr.Radhakrishnan did not have any authority to hold possession of the room in the college managed by the learned Administrator, had directed him to vacate and hand over possession of the room to the learned Administrator. Even though he had been handed over two keys, he gave one key to one Mrs.Prema, claiming that certain properties in the room belonged to her and she is now refusing to hand over the possession of the room to the college. This is only an attempt to circumvent the orders passed by this Court, as the said Mr.Radhakrishnan had not intimated earlier that the belongings of one Mrs.Prema were in the said room.

4. In such view of the matter, the learned Administrator is permitted to take possession of the said room with the aid of the Station House Officer of the jurisdictional police concerned. As and when the learned Administrator approaches the Station House Officer of the concerned jurisdiction, the said Station House Officer shall forthwith give necessary protection to the learned Administrator for taking possession of the room, which was directed to be handed over by the said Mr.Radhakrishnan.

5. The learned Administrator has also indicated that the said Mr.Radhakrishnan is putting up construction on land adjacent to the college, but is unauthorizedly utilizing the land of the college to access the said property. It is open to the learned Administrator to take out necessary applications in that regard, as he deems fit, proper and necessary.

6. The learned counsel appearing for the plaintiff in CS No. 56 of 2025 seeks two weeks time to file a reply statement to the written statement filed by the defendant.

7. Acceding to his request, list the matter for further proceedings on 24.06.2025.
