ORDER

The primary contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that there is non-compliance to Rule 70(9) of the Copyright Rules, 2013, which contemplates that a notice has to be served on the petitioner by the respondent.

2. The learned counsel for the respondent contends that there was no occasion or necessity for the respondent to serve notice as contemplated under Rule 70(9) of the Copyright Rules, 2013 since the petitioner is not having a valid registration in his favour and therefore, the submission has no substantial force. He further submits that the respondent has filed Application No.4269 of 2025 seeking to vacate injunction and Application No.4270 of 2025 for filing additional documents.

3. However, the learned counsel for the petitioner submits that he has a registration in favour of the petitioner. It is his submission that the details of the registration in favour of the petitioner has been set out in the order passed in Application No.145 of 2023.

4. The learned counsel for the respondent, who has filed vacate stay petition contends that since the main suit itself is of the year 2019, that itself can be taken for final disposal and in such event, the entire dispute and the rival claims could be resolved. The learned counsel for the petitioner contends that only after the application for rectification is decided, the suit can be taken up for final disposal.

5. Mr.J.Madanagopal Rao, learned Senior Panel Central Government Standing Counsel appears for the fifth respondent.

6. Post on 16.12.2025 on the request of the learned counsel for both sides.
