In view of the earlier order made on 21.03.2023, the learned counsel for the defendants filed a memo dated 28.03.2023 stating that the very same Commissioner, who had already visited the property can be appointed as Commissioner to bring the suit property for auction. The respondent also did not have any objection. In fact, on 21.03.2023, the following order has been passed in view of the joint submissions:-

“The learned counsel on both sides submitted that they could not find any prosperous buyer and among the parties, no one has come forward to purchase the property. They further submitted that it would be convenient if the Commissioner himself conducts the sale through auction. They also requested time to file a memo in this regard.

2. For filing memo, list the matter on 05.04.2023.”

2. In pursuant to the earlier order, the Memo has been filed today. Taking into consideration the aforesaid memo, Mr.Meganathan, learned counsel is appointed as Commissioner to bring the suit property for sale through public auction and conduct the sale proceedings and file a report after completion. The Commissioner's remuneration has to be borne by the parties in accordance with the respective shares in the suit property.
