When the matter is taken up today, the learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the interaction with the child through video call is not possible for more than ten minutes and even during that time, the child was not seen to be keen enough to talk with her grandparents and she is just watching her mother's reaction and wandering here and there.

2. It is submitted by the learned counsel for the respondent that the respondent has got no difficulty in allowing the child to interact with the petitioners through video calls. But the technical snag during such call cannot be mistaken as the fault on the part of the respondent.

3. Since there are many video call applications are available, it is advisable for the parties to make use of any such application to have trouble free conversation with the child through video calls. The petitioners are also at liberty to visit the child in person by going to Sharjah.

4. The learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the petitioners are willing to visit the minor child in person provided the respondent could give her address.

5. If meeting the child in the residence of the respondent is not feasible, the parties can suggest some other common place and modalities to fructify the visit in a fruitful manner. Till such time, the present arrangement shall continue and the parties shall endeavour to see the video meetings go freely and peacefully.

6. List the matter on 10.10.2023.
