The records reveal that service had been completed on the respondent. The name and addresses have been printed in the cause list. There is no appearance. Publication has also been effected.

2. It would only appropriate that a panel counsel from the High Court Legal Services Committee is appointed to examine the records and argue on behalf of the respondent.

3. The counsel, who is appointed may also issue notice to the respondent informing about his/her appointment and get further instructions and thereafter submit arguments.

4. List the matter on 14.07.2026.
