ORDER

This matter has been listed under the caption for "maintainability" by the Registry.

2. The petitioner, who was the defendant before the Debt Recovery Tribunal, Madurai, has filed the Civil Revision Petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, challenging the order passed by the Recovery Officer (DRT), Madurai, dated 03.03.2026, dismissing the petition filed in MA.No.218 of 2023 in RC No.49 of 2021 questioning the auction sale.

3. The Registry has raised an objection mainly on the ground that there is an efficacious alternative remedy available to the petitioner before the Debt Recovery Tribunal and hence, the Civil Revision Petition cannot be maintained before this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

C.R.P(MD). No.1246 of 2026

4. The learned counsel for the petitioner, by placing reliance upon various judgments, submitted that the restrictions in invoking the jurisdiction under Article 226 and Article 227 of the Constitution of India are only self-imposed and it is not an absolute bar for this Court to entertain this Civil Revision Petition.

5. In our considered view, the Apex Court is repeatedly holding that the High Courts must lay off their hands while dealing with issues under the Recovery of Debts and Bankruptcy Act, 1993 / SARFAESI Act, more particularly when an efficacious alternative remedy is available. Therefore, if the present Civil Revision Petition is entertained, this Court has to necessarily go into the merits of the findings rendered by the Tribunal. When an efficacious alternative remedy is available to the petitioner, this Court cannot entertain this Civil Revision Petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. Therefore, it will be left open to the petitioner to work out the remedy in the manner known to law.

6. In the light of the above, the objection raised by the Registry is sustained and liberty is granted to the petitioner to work out his remedy in the manner known to law. Consequently, the connected Miscellaneous Petitions are closed. No costs.
